Above: Young Mr. Thomsen grew up in Baltimore, MD.

The yearbook staff is pleased to dedicate the 2015-2016 Hallmark to our principal Lee Thomsen. For 11 years, Mr. Thomsen led the Upper School to great achievements including the introduction of laptops and the creation of the Beyond the Classroom program. He supported these, and other programs, because he always wanted students to expand their knowledge outside of the classroom. In addition to his academic contributions, he made a personal impact on the school with his lighthearted humor and kind attitude. As Alan Sparrow said, "Perhaps Lee's greatest strength is his ability to connect with people and his engaging, compassionate, and dedicated attitude towards our community." We couldn't agree more! While he's taking the next step in his educational journey and moving to become the Head of School at Sacramento Country Day School, his impact on Rowland Hall will remain in place forever. We wish him all the best and we won't forget to make good choices.

ALOHA STOMP

Below: Meg Janes, Nico Edgar, Lucy Mulligan, Sophia Cutrubus, and Jake Dreyfous party with the inflatable animals.

It may have been September in Utah, but the warm weather, the music, and the Hawaiian vibes made the Aloha Stomp feel like summer was not over. The Aloha Stomp is a tradition of welcoming the student body to the new year. As purposely designed, the stomp set an environment for students, old and new, to socialize, dance, and have fun as a new integrated Rowland Hall community. Students enjoyed great music, popsicles, great weather, and a fun photo booth.

Right: Students in Charleston took a kayak tour around Folly Bay where they learned about the local sea life and habitat.

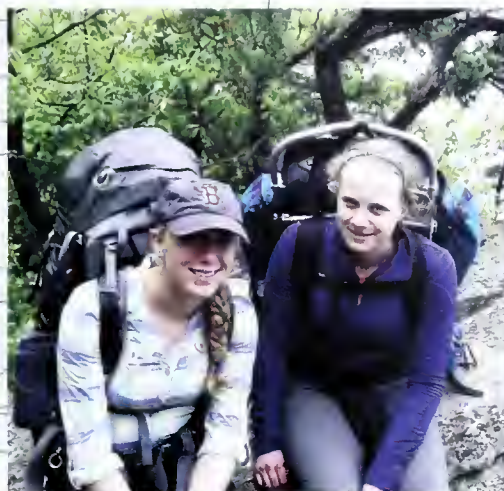

Clockwise to the right: Students in Montreal visited the Notre-Dame Basilica built in 1824 as a Roman Catholic church. Junior Wes Johnston reflects on the beauty of Dark Canyon in Southern Utah. On a flashback to the 1970s, the That 70s interim practiced their bowling skills.

Right: Declan Picot holds up a starfish near The Gulf of Santa Catalina. Far right: Oh my! Look at that bridge! Seniors Quincy Pinnell-Jackson, Georgia Veverka, and Sara Matsumura marvel at the Arthur Ravenel Jr. Bridge in Charleston, South Carolina.

Far left: During their 10 day trip, students volunteered at a preschool in Cusco, Peru. Left: Pippa Hodgkins and Sydney Rabbitt take a break from hiking the Appalachian Trail. Over the week long trip, the group hiked 30-40 miles of the trail.

Left: Mr. Wortham led the interim to Montreal. During the trip, students Ethan Williams, Tarik Basic, and Sam Hirsch ate classic French cuisine alongside Mr. Wortham.

Far left: Junior Karyna Howell enjoys the views of Bryce Canyon through a rock opening. Left: Cynthia Grissom and Sara Swenson learn about the history of Fort Sumter which had a large part in the American Civil war.

Most students look forward to May because it means that school is drawing to a close, but the end of the year also signifies interim! Interim happens every year during the week after AP exams. During last year's week-long adventures, students had the opportunity to participate in a variety of in-town or out-of-town experiences in which they gained knowledge that cannot always be taught in a classroom setting.

INTERIM

CONVOCAATION

Taking place for the first time in the Steiner soccer field, convocation successfully inaugurated the school year with the wise words from school leaders Alan Sparrow, Eric Tokita, Ryan Hoglund, Mr. Innis, and Lee Thomsen. In contrast to last year's missed convocation, this year's convocation allowed all grades to gather together and start the school year with envisioned goals as a united community. The ritual walk to convocation was brought back, as well as the popular tradition of first graders high-fiving current seniors. After convocation, students walked back to campus to enjoy refreshments and catch up from summer activities.

Right: Zach Coury and Mariah Papac enjoy the senior privilege of sitting in chairs.
Fair right: Seniors high-five the first graders!

Far left: Chaplain Mr. Innis offers words of wisdom and asks everyone to start the year "in peace".

Far right: Josef Sueoka points to the beautiful scenery while on the beaver hike. Right: Alex Baughman and Alison Puri play on the rocks while hiking through a drained river.

9TH GRADE TRIP

The 9th grade trip was a four day camping trip in the Uintahs. During the trips, students participated in a series of activities which included multiple hikes, visiting a beaver dam, orienteering, and fly fishing. Each day consisted of a morning activity and an afternoon activity. Some memorable moments included Mr. Christensen hitchhiking to rescue his campers and students taking shelter in a bathroom for warmth. On the last day, the 9th graders performed in a talent show where they showed their skills in singing, acting and instrumental pieces. Mr. Long and Mr. Wilson also performed. Though it was raining throughout the trip, the rain didn't stop them from having fun!

BEYOND THE CLASSROOM

This year's Beyond the Classroom was a great success, even in "failure." The sophomore's activity was a multi-phase process that consisted of setting up 30,000 dominos on the gym floor and then triggering the dominoes to fall with team-designed Rube Goldberg machines. Unfortunately, the dominoes were accidentally triggered early! Fortunately, the group attitude was resilient and found new ways to have fun and learn. According to Mr. Lindemann, "perhaps we set our sights too high, but we did have success... just not the success we envisioned." During this same day, juniors planned their Project 11 service projects, while seniors went to "Application Bootcamp" to finish applying to college.

Right: Students assemble the dominos on the floor of the school gym

Right: Athletes Will Dischmann and Elle Sweetland battle outfits with mathletes Arielle Flynn and Patrick Schloesser.

Clockwise to the right: Marley Griffiths dresses just like Rustin Armknecht while Rustin twins Marley's style. Lauren Bikhazi, Katie Foley, and Savannah Price make the ultimate trio on Twin day. Jonah Hollbrook and Harper Coleman-Houghton bring the Heat to Athlete vs Mathlete day. Yousef Salama and Henry Gilbert didn't even plan their twinning.

With an enthusiastic and fun goal of increasing school spirit, the Student Council organized a unique Spirit Week full of fun surprises. Starting Monday, students began wearing their most comfy pajamas. On Tuesday, students twinned outfits and styles with their friends and teachers. On Wednesday, our students battled out jerseys and nerdy glasses for athlete versus mathlete day. On Thursday, students took an opportunity to express their own nationality and heritage. Lastly, students celebrated Halloween to end the last day of Spirit Week and kick off an spectacular Halloween Stomp.

SPIRIT WEEK

Right: Mary Anne Wetzel can see your future at Rowland Hall.

Far right: Marley Griffiths, Isaac Landau, and Sophie Cox are wanted for escaping Azkaban. Have you seen these witches and wizard?

Right: Student Body President Eric Tokita salutes Rowland Hall: "Live long and prosper." Far right: It's been a hard day's night. Ian Bird has been working like a dog in the school library.

This year's Halloween celebrations were revamped to a whole new level. By combining Halloween to Spirit Week and the Halloween Stomp, Student Council designed a Friday full of fun activities. Starting the day at school, students dressed up to their desired costumes and helped decorate the halls with their assigned themes. Freshman decorated their hallway in a fall theme while the sophomores decorated their hallway in a sci-fi theme. Next to each other, juniors decorated their hallway like Hogwarts while the seniors decorated their hall in a spooky graveyard. After school, students stayed in campus to make an enjoyable Halloween for lower schoolers. Once 'trick or treating' was over, students headed to the McCarthy Campus to dance all night at the stomp.

HALLOWEEN

Right: Patrick Schloesser and Ailish Harris enjoy the wonderful food at Canapalooza.

Right: Megan Rasich helps out with the loading.
Far right: Issac Landau, Donovan Murphy, and Quincy Jackson bring it home.

Right: Stephanie Nolan reads a beautiful poem of her own making.
Far right; just some of the food donated by students. Ramen noodles and bulk flats of vegetables are always a popular donation.

CANNED FOOD DRIVE

Every year, Rowland Hall hosts the famous Can Food Drive. The Food Drive began with a "Hunger Games" contest. Students were divided into "districts" to see who could bring in the most food. Eric Tokita even gave a speech as "President Snow-kita" to kick it all off. The debate team won the hunger games by raising 752 dollars/cans in one week!. The drive ended with a stunning Canapolooza festival where students played, sang, or read spoken word. Our MC was the specatular Ailish Harris and Oliver Jin and Cynthia Grissom hyped up the student body. All of the cans and funds collected got to help the Cross Roads Urban Center.

Far Left: Elliot Staten and Will Matheson blow the crowd away. Left: Student Council members help organize the Can Food Drive every year.

HALF DAY, WHOLE HEART

Embarking on a small journey to serve our community, students performed three hours of community service after taking the PLAN/PSAT tests and working on college essay workshops. Our students helped a variety of organizations within our community including the Crossroads Thrift Store, the Crossroads Food Pantry, the Fisher House, the Good Samaritan, Project Linus, the Ronald McDonald House, the Sharing Place, Tracy Aviary, Red Butte Gardens, the VOA Homelessness Youth Center, Wasatch Community Gardens, the Gorder's family farm, Dr. Taylor's Place, McCarthy Science Garden, and many more tasks at our Lower School and Upper School.

Right: More than an act of service: Alex Percy and Jake West enjoy their time serving at Red Butte Gardens.

Right: Alicia Lu and Ethan Goh organize large amounts of donated clothes.

Far right: Carlos Getzelman and Mathis Lethier look nifty in their Half Day shirts.

Right: With precision: Isaac Adondakis helped organize food cans at the Cross Roads Thrift Store. "It was a change of perspective. I saw myself helping the world outside of Rowland Hall," commented Isaac.

Left: Ready to work: Tori Kusakawa lifts up his Half Day Whole Heart shirt with excitement.

Clockwise to the right: Ella Baker-Smith and Carolina Andrus singing "Will I Lose My Dignity" from Rent. Annie Cox and Max Murphy sing the duet "Nothing's Gonna Harm You" from Sweeney Todd. The upper school choir sings "The Lioness Hunt", from The Lion King, while the middle school dance group performed on stage.

Right: The Dance 5 group, banging on trash cans, and having fun, performs the song "Stomp."

Left: Adie Christiansen and Robin Zang sing "Will I Lose My Dignity" from Rent.

This year's production involved many different songs from a variety of famous Broadway musicals including: West Side Story, Chicago, Lion King, Rent, Mary Poppins, and Sweeney Todd. The Road to Broadway involved all departments of our performing arts including band, orchestra, choir, dance, and theater groups to create an incredible musical production never done before at Rowland Hall. Our musical theater seniors Abby Thomsen and Ailish Harris will be missed on their large contributions to the musicals for the past four years.

BOYS' GOLF

The boys' golf team had one of their best seasons ever. The team finished fifth in the challenging 2A division, but Garret Furubayashi took home the individual state title in a riveting playoff. The golf team will lose three seniors: Jonah Holbrook, Maxwell Sueoka, and Garret Furubayashi, but the team looks to remain strong with their electric talent and great leadership.

Far left: Jonah Holbrook shows how to use your entire body in a unified swing. Left: Maxwell Sueoka stays focused through the swing on a massive tee-shot!

This season the girls' tennis team did incredibly well. The girls swept the 2A state tournament with first-place finishes in every category for both singles and doubles. The team also won the region title and dominated multiple season matches due to their hard work, strong team dynamic, and the positive attitudes. Team captain Angela Foley commented, "This year, the team was the strongest team we've had my entire high school career." Team captain Sophia Nielsen added, "We really crushed our competition this year...Waterford didn't stand a chance!" The girls had fun all season while also working hard to finish the season on a high note.

This year in cross country, the boys' team placed seventh and the girls took sixth in the state meet at Sugarhouse Park on October 21. Sam Sanders placed 3rd overall, his best finish as a RH runner! Coach Mark Oftedal reflects, "The highlight of the season was both our girls' and boys' teams capturing the Region 14 championship titles while facing some of the best competition I've seen in my nine years at Rowland Hall." Megan Rasich says, "Cross country was such a great way to start my freshman year off. I had so much fun bonding with the team on the bus, and I can't wait for next year!" The cross country team did a great job supporting each other and helping the new runners stay positive and achieve their goals!

GIRLS' SOCCER

This year's seniors, Liz Baer, Megan Dingman, Mariah Papac, Elle Sweetland, and Nicole Wozniak, led the girls' soccer team to a season record of 7-0-1 in region play. They often dominated with shut-out scores, placing them on top of Region 14. In post-season play, the team defeated multiple teams on their home field and advanced to the semifinals of the 2A state tournament.

Overall, the volleyball team had an extremely successful season. The coaches were immensely proud of the team for winning the region championship and placing 8th in the state championship. One of the biggest highlights of the season consisted of beating Waterford to win the region championship. The Waterford games were two of the most intense games of our season. The girls put their all on the court throughout the season and left the court feeling incredibly proud. It was sad to see the seniors play their last game on October 22nd against Rockwell. The game was an emotional night for all seniors, coaches, and the rest of the team. Everyone on and off the volleyball team were tremendously proud of the girls' performance.

Right: Cynthia Grissom comes to school in her favorite "ugly sweater." Far right: Student Council helped the student body build a long gratitude chain.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

Holidays at Rowland Hall are always exciting. From the food giveaways to "Ugly Sweater Day," Rowland Hall never loses the spirit of celebrating festivity. This year's Christmas Giveaway offered a successful turn out with support from students, volunteers, and even Governor Hebert himself. During the holidays, students celebrated by wearing holiday sweaters and expressing their gratitude by creating long gratitude chains to display at Candle and Carol.

Far left: Sophia Nielsen helps unload food out of the truck. Left: Student Council members Henry Gilbert, Rustin Armknecht, Brooke Tilson, and Kat Lanham help design a gratitude chain to display for Candle and Carol.

Snow, dresses, and suits oh my! This year's Winter Formal took place at the Gallivan Center. The dance hall sparkled with stars which tied into this year's "Starry Night" theme. The students danced the January night away to fun jams provided by DJ Sam Oliver. Although it was snowing outside, the snow didn't stop the students from laughing and having fun!

DEBATE

The nationally ranked debate team continued to have success at all levels of competition, including championships at local and national tournaments. The high school team is made up of over 40 debaters who participate in a variety of events, including Public Forum, Lincoln-Douglas, Policy, and World Schools Debate. This year, the debaters made good on their promise to "Rise Up. Dig Deep. Stay Centered." Congratulations on a great season!

CHOIR & ORCHESTRA

This year's choir and orchestra pushed it to the limits! During the fall school musical, the orchestra had to tackle and achieve learning an African repertoire from Lion King. As for the choir, they also performed music from Rent and Mary Poppins. Both groups also had many concerts throughout the year!

Below: Cindy Shen, Kiyan Banuri, and Robert Welt, all play the cello at this year's Candle and Carol.

Far right: Rob Welt Plays the guitar as Talia Browdy and Mishka Banuri play their wind instruments.

Above: Davis Kahler, Mr. Jackson, Ailish Harris, Will Matheson, and Eliot Staten combine the sounds of saxophones and trumpets to make a wonderful song.

The jazz band combos had an amazing year! They performed a wide variety of songs from the works of Miles Davis, Josef Zawhanul, Roy Hargrove, the Edgar Winter Group, Duran Duran and Michael Jackson. Beyond learning countless rehearsed songs, they also learned to jam out with improvisational skills.

BAND

Below: "Jonah" by Maxwell Sueoka. In this piece, Maxwell enjoyed working with oil paintings for the first time.

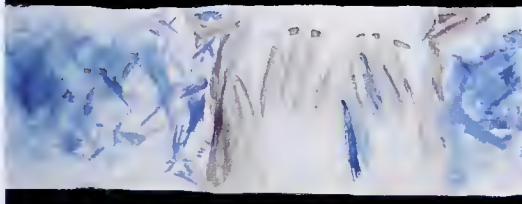

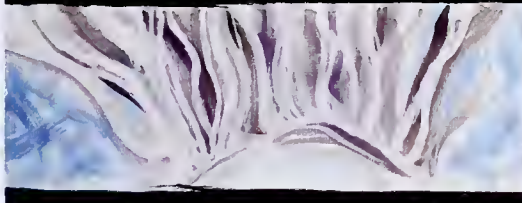

Counter clockwise to the right: Piece by Sophie Cox. Oil painting by Emily Gordon. "Day at Work" by Sophie Smith made with pen in paper.

VISUAL ART

Once again, Rowland Hall's creativity shines through in these stunning works by our talented AP Art and Studio Art students who spend the entire school year designing, painting, and drawing original pieces. Art teacher Mr. Mellor expressed his remarks: "Rowland Hall has no shortage of creative energy and talent." This page highlights some of the best works from seniors in the 2015-2016 school year.

Clockwise to the left: "Negative Nicki" by Sara Matsumura. Sara explains, "I saw some inverted art before and have always wanted to try it. Meanwhile, my sister really likes Nicki Minaj, so I was looking for some pictures I could draw of her, and all of the photos I saved had really awesome colors, so tried it in this piece." "Drowning" by Maddy Lee. "Canyon" made with pen ink by Hannah West. Sports sketches by Garrett Furubayashi. Garret describes his art as "a relaxing way of killing time" and a way of combining his interests in sports and drawing.

DANCE

The Rowland Hall Dance company has done many productions this year, and participated in the fall musical, the Road to Broadway. The dancers work hard all year to lead up to their productions. Their biggest dance concert this year in April was a huge success. The dance concert was inspired by visual art. There were many different ideas in the dance concert that were adapted into dance, such as mental illness, gender equality, consumerism, cultures of violence, etc. The dancers did an amazing job incorporating these current problems into their dance to show everyone.

Cast: Ben Espinosa as George Bailey; Ailish Harris as Mary Hatch; David Chortkoff as Mr. Potter; Celia Davis as Mother Bailey; Ella Baker-Smith as Violet; Katie Rose Kimball as Aunt Tilley + Jane Bailey; Aidan Braun Freck as Uncle Billy; Tori Kusukawa as Harry Bailey + Paper Boy; Blair Alley as Mrs. Gower + Zuzu Bailey + Mrs. Andrews; Rachel Kovnick as Mrs. Wilson + Sam + Mrs. Thompson; Rylee Usher as The Bank Examiner + Mrs. Martini.

This year the Rag and Bone theatre company tackled the famous play "It's a Wonderful Life." While mostly known as a Christmas classic, the theatre company altered the classic story to have a more modern twist which excluded the Christmas and religious references. The cast included all grades from the upper school with leads played by Senior Ailish Harris and Junior Ben Espinosa. When asked to comment on her role this year, Ailish Harris said "Taking that final bow was so bittersweet yet I'm really grateful that I got to play such an iconic role for my last show." With so many talented performers in the cast, the play received standing ovations from the audience!

BOYS' BASKETBALL

With addition of new coaches and players, the boys' basketball team accomplished their goals by placing 4th in region and qualifying to the 2A division state tournament. Trained and conditioned intensely by Coach Ross, Coach Ro, and Coach Paul, our basketball team played tough against difficult opponents such as West Wendover, LCA, Waterford, and Rockwell. Kendra Tomsic observed, "players battled from start to finish in every game and provided fans with some excellent, fast-paced basketball all season long. We are proud of them!" Seniors Kyle Eng, Will Dischmann, Jonah Hollbrook, Garrett Furubayashi, Eric Tokita, Isaac Adondakis, and Sam Galvez will be missed for their scoring, defense, and leadership.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The basketball season for the girls was a huge success. With only two teams, JV and Varsity, the girls worked hard every practice making that work pay off in their games. Their coaches Ashley, Stacey, and Coach Tatomer regularly celebrated the girls for how much they grew throughout the basketball season. The girls were sad to see seniors Chelsea Birkett and Quincy Pinnell-Jackson finish off their last season as they were inspiring leaders for the whole team.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Seen every week giving announcements and setting a good example for the student body, Student Council accomplished another successful year leading our students. Other than informing our students, Student Council planned significant events such as the Aloha Stomp, the Can Food Drive, Halloween, and the formal dances. Student Council could not be more grateful for Mary Anne Wetzel for her great leadership in leading our student leaders every Tuesday and Wednesday mornings of the week.

LITERARY MAGAZINE

Once again, Mr. Long's creative writing classes have exceeded previous expectations in writing and designing this year's Literary Magazine, Tesseractae. Tesseractae has been rewarded the All-American status five consecutive times from the National Scholastic Press Association. The talented work of each writer and artist makes each year's magazine unique. Seniors Alessandra Miranda, Sophie Cox, Ailish Harris, Sam Sanders, and Tyler Macintyre will be missed for their outstanding works of writing.

PUBLICATIONS

Responsible for producing both the Hallmark and the Gazette, this year's publications staff has its work cut out for them. Mr. Shackelford was new to yearbook advising, half of the team were freshman, and the class was the smallest it's been in years. Luckily, they had outstanding senior leadership! Whether it was writing full-length feature stories, designing senior ads, or just photographing a school event, the staff always took pride in their work.

Right: Tess Edgley & Allison Perrin, Freshman. Tess notes, "I chose to be involved with Publications because I really enjoy the combination of writing and photography. My favorite assignment was taking photos which represented certain design principles, such as leading lines, or bird eye perspective. Overall, publications has been a great class with countless memories." Allison explains, "I wanted to join publications because I love helping out with school activities, and it seemed like a really fun experience. I loved writing for the newspaper and interviewing people because it helped me reach out and make more friends!"

Right: Josef Sueoka, Freshman. "When I am not glued to a computer screen, I spend time learning French, cooking meals and playing with my co-op cat, Tibuerius. I really enjoyed learning about journalism and yearbook."

Left: Sam Galvez Chew, Senior, Editor. "Publications has been my most passionate class for the past 4 years. From writing articles to building pages, I have enjoyed every single project in class. This year, I took leadership in designing our yearbook's layout as well as teaching new staff members design principles. Leaving Publications will be one of the hardest things to do this year. Congrats Publications 2016 on creating this work of art!"

Far left: Cynthia Grisom, Senior, Editor. "I joined publications as a sophomore. I love the creative atmosphere and the community we've built in the past year. I am so proud of our work! I think it's our best yearbook to date. It's amazing to create a work that will be looked back on in years to come. I want to thank Mr. Smith, Mr. Shackelford, and Dr. Johnson for mentoring us and keeping us on track when we goofed off."

Left: Sam Sanders, Senior. "I have been at the school since 3 Pre-K and loved it everyday. RH has always been a huge part of my family and my life, because I have 2 brothers, 3 sisters, and a mom at the school. I love enjoying and celebrating the school through publications."

Publications Staff (from left to right): Tess Edgley, Sam Galvez Chew, Sam Sanders, Josef Sueoka, Cynthia Grisom, Dr. Laura Johnson, Rachel Nelson, Mr. Mike Shackelford, Allison Perrin. Mr. Shackelford, Advisor. "I am so proud of this small but talented team! We didn't always know where we were going, but every step of the journey was rewarding. Each student exceeded my expectations and deserve all the praise and credit. Cherish your yearbook, and don't forget who made it possible."

Far right: Maxwell Sueoka plays with a stray kitten, appropriately name Bishop Cuddle, on the first week of school.

Not all time is spent in the classroom. Many students enjoy doing various actives like going outside, enjoying nature or hanging out with friends. The typical Rowland Hall adventurer attended sport events, went on hikes, and enjoyed student life at its fullest. Most activities outside of school are the best memories to preserve in this yearbook.

STUDENT LIFE

Right: Spanish Club continued another successful year fundraising for Amnesty International and other community organizations. Their love for Spanish culture will live on Rowland Hall.

Clockwise to the right: Film Club leader Oliver Jin leads a discussion about their upcoming film project. The Queer Straight Alliance led a successful year of voicing important topics regarding gender identity and sexual orientation. Film Club accomplished an outstanding year of film productions.

Right: French Club led another successful year fundraising money for terrorist victims of last year's Paris attacks. In addition to their service, French Club celebrated enriched French culture throughout the year.

Each year, our Rowland Hall students engage in plenty of student organized clubs. Participating in a club is no small feat. This year, students participated in the Chinese club, Latin club, Environs club, Film club, Tabletop club, Knitting club, Queer Straight Alliance, A Cappella club, Investment club, Interact club, Spanish club, Jam club, French club, Make club, Science Olympiad club, Quiz Bowl club, and the Spirit Squad.

CLUBS

Far right: Abed Alsolaiman and Michael Palmer are rewarded with pizza for helping Ms. Croft.

Caeli Kennedy, Gillian Larsen, and Savannah Price, enjoy time in their health class.

Sophie Cox tries to catch markers using reversing goggles while Max Milavetz helps guide her.

Arielle Flynn tries to draw figures using reversing goggles in AP Psychology.

ACADEMICS

Rowland Hall is a college preparatory school, so academics is one of the biggest part of our lives. While extraordinary learning takes place in the classroom, students also have countless opportunities to apply their learning through engaging activities and experience well beyond the school. No matter what students are doing, they always do it using our best abilities, and joy in our hearts.

Far left: Cheyanna Hayes, and Nicole Wozniak talk to a representative.

CURRENT EVENTS

Treasuring school memories are as important as treasuring the memorable events that made our school year unique from any other year. In these pages, our yearbook staff picked some significant current events that placed our community in the larger context of world events. What was your most memorable event?

February 28, 2016

After unsuccessfully getting nominated six times for Best Actor, Leonardo DiCaprio received his first Oscar for Best Actor in the movie The Revenant.

November 13, 2015

A series of terrorist attacks occurred in Paris. The gunmen and suicide bombers killed 130 people and wounded hundreds. The terrorists attacked a concert hall, a major stadium, restaurants and bars. To express our compassion for the citizens of Paris, Rowland Hall raised money through bake sales and selling peace eiffel tower stickers.

The 2016 election season brought us hilarious ads, important controversies, and left us all #feelingthebern. At time the yearbook's print deadline, Hillary Clinton (FRM First Lady, Senator, and Secretary of State) and Donald Trump (American businessman and television personality) were the favorites to win the Democratic and Republican primary.

September 28, 2015

NASA announced the discovery of water on Mars. An imaging spectrometer on the Mars Reconnaissance Orbiter took pictures of detected spots of hydrated material. When you see the dark streaks in the picture it's a very shallow stream of water.

Far left: February 7, 2016 Peyton Manning capped off a legendary career by winning Super Bowl 50.

Left: September 2015 Pope Francis visited several American cities on a six day tour to the United States, including the first ever papal address to Congress.

THANK YOU!

Our Publications staff is grateful for every dedicated individual and group that helped or contributed to this year's Hallmark. We would not be able to make the yearbook without them. Thank you!

Below: Raimundo Almenera worked behind the scenes designing yearbook pages and writing newspaper articles during his free periods. We are grateful for his work.

Right: As the mastermind of several design aspects of our yearbook, Oliver Jin helped design our cover and take pictures throughout the year. The yearbook would not be the same without him.

Right: Mr. Smith's Photography Class helped our yearbook staff take several of our Dance pictures. Their artistic style helped incorporate a nice addition to our yearbook.

Above: Marketing Department director Stephanie Orfanakis helped take plenty of our school event pictures.

ADDITIONAL CREDITS: LifeTouch, Jason Castleton, Patrick Godfrey, Wikimedia Commons, student contributors, and parents of seniors.

HELLOS

The school is always adding new faces to the community. In addition to new students, here are the new faculty and staff members who will hopefully become lasting fixtures of Rowland Hall.

Below: Dave Samson, Assistant Principal. Previously Dave worked at the Germantown Academy in Pennsylvania. He holds a Master's degree in counseling psychology and brought a ton of administration experience. Dave is excited to be in Utah with his wife, Kate, his daughter, Beatrice and his two dogs.

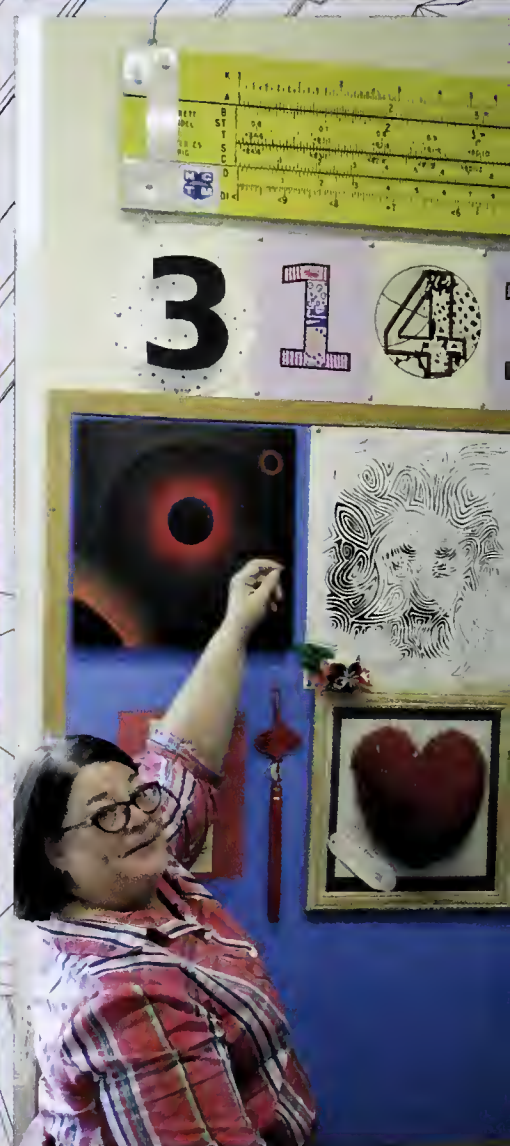

Right: Maria Hutchings, Registrar. Maria previously worked at East High. Maria adores being outside in the summers and can usually be found swimming in a pool or lake. In her spare time, she loves reading and watching scary movies.

Ronnie Ross, Head Boys' Basketball Coach. Ronnie is also the owner of Utah Elite Athletics Basketball Club

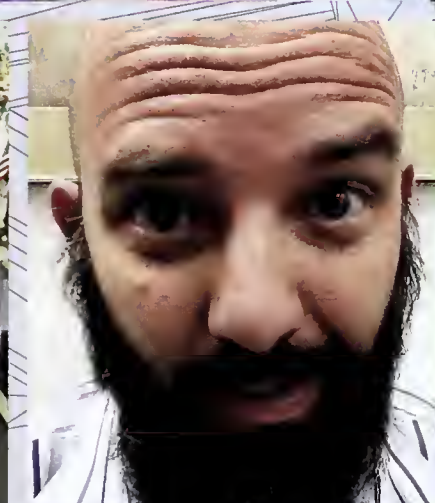

Adella Croft, Math Teacher. A 30-year veteran teacher, Adella has taught every math class in the Utah curriculum from basic math to BC Calculus.

Left: Angela Tooze, Receptionist. After brightening our school with her generous spirit and English accent for over six years, she is moving to Portland, OR where she will have more time to read, knit, and garden! The mother of James (class of '09) and Thomas (class of '13), Angela was a 'parent' to all of us and will be missed by the entire community. As a gesture of gratitude, the senior class choose Angela to give the Baccalaureate speech!

Left: Ben Smith, long time yearbook advisor, added Advanced Topics in Computer Science to the long list of classes he teaches.

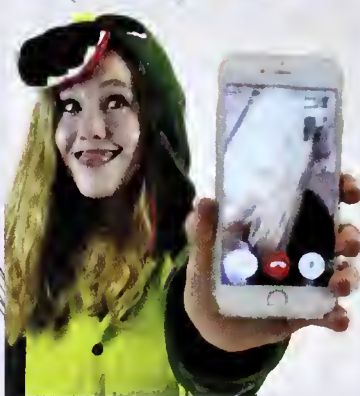

Saying goodbye is never easy, but when people move on to pursue other passions and opportunities, the change can be beautiful. In addition to a pair of farewells, we also had two teachers take on new and different roles.

Lee Thomsen, Principal. As mentioned on the dedication page, Lee is 'graduating' with his daughter and moving on to be the Head of the Sacramento Country Day School.

OTOB

This year's Battle of the Classes included dodgeball, music videos, blitz chess, sumo wrestling, knockout, quiz bowl, and the lip sync contest. The senior class claimed victory after defeating all grades on flag football, blitz chess, knockout, sumo wrestling, and a close win against the juniors on the lip sync contest. All grades presented spectacular performances and music videos during the week competition including music from: Grease, the Fresh Prince of Bel-Air, and Aaron Carter. The senior lip sync was considered "the most scandalous" lip sync by Mr. Hori because of its several cultural appropriations and breaking a guitar on stage.

Each player on the team played an important part in their success. Shubaria Aminzada worked hard all season to perfect her catching skills.

Clockwise from above: All of the team, including those pictured Sarv Raaffati, Marguerite Tate, Sydney Rabbitt, and Pippa Hodgkins, had a lot of fun on the softball team. Rachel Nelson has pitched for the team for 4 years, in this photo she throws a 'riseball' which is hard to hit. Amaya Hoglund puts her best foot forward at the plate.

SOFTBALL

This year the girls' softball team finished fourth in their region. Throughout the season, they competed against difficult teams yet finished the season with 6 wins and 6 losses. The team was lead by senior captains Rachel Nelson, Harper Coleman-Houghton, and Josie Anderson. On the success of the team this year, Harper Coleman-Houghton said "I think the team really realized our potential this year and we used that to our advantage to create a team that really put a lot of effort into working together as a team." In addition to giving it their all on the field, the girls also raised over $20,000 for breast cancer awareness during their annual Swing for Life Tournament.

Counter clockwise from the left: Team captain Harper Coleman-Houghton stays sharp in the outfield. Lillian Brown, a freshman really enjoys batting. Senior Josie Anderson has shown her skill at first base over the past 4 years. Using her mighty muscles, Natalie Weed bats at home plate.

ROWLAND HALL BASEBALL TEAM 2016

BASEBALL

This year's Baseball team had a great year! They were able to raise enough money to play at the Utah Bees, Smith baseball park. Even though they were short in numbers, with barely enough to make a whole team, it didn't stop them from having an amazing season. The team won 7 out of 9 games and achieved a 2nd ranked seeding in the region tournament. It was a challenging year for them, but Coach Sandeval dispelled a myth about baseball, noting that "it isn't just a boring past time, We had a lot of fun".

Far left: The baseball team cheers on their follow players at bat, and on the bases.

Track and Field has been a huge success this year according to Coach Mark Oftedal. Not only is there a strong and athletic team but the team had 22 new students who were not just incoming freshmen. According to Coach Oftedal they were an extremely impressive team, they were not reluctant to compete and were willing to push themselves. In an effort to reduce and prevent injuries, the team added a new strength training coach named John Bercaw. The new program, which brought voluntary pre-season strength training to the table 5 days a week, resulted in a lot less injuries.

BOYS' SOCCER

Boys' soccer had a meaningful year. Although they did not qualify for state, Coach Langone stated how "if he were to go back to high school and play soccer again, I would have wanted to play with this team." Coach Langone spoke very admirably of the team, how motivated and driven they were, and how they were ready to push themselves and each other to do the best they could.

Counter clockwise from the left: Youseff Salama takes an incredible corner kick. Henry Gilbert will not be stopped as he dribbles down the field past the opposing LCA player on his left.

GIRLS' GOLF

This girls' golf team did incredibly well, once again winning Region! Coach Camacho and the crew ransacked the opposition in route to a super season. The fierce team drew leadership from team captain and Academic All-State award winner Caity Kwun. Zaria Thompson, Lane Baker, and Maddie Kwun helped to provided consistently throughout the season. Freshman Alison Puri gives something for all Rowland Hall fans to get hyped about in the future.
